Q.1) Read the following Passage and answer the questions given below.

15

Few of those who saw the grand animation feature, Lion King, at Sterling Cinema on Friday night could have missed seeing a young urchin, Amol, standing desolately at the entrance. He looked longingly at the life-sized cutouts of the cartoon characters through the glass door, even as more privileged children trailed in with their parents. Luckily, he was noticed by a young woman who happened to have an extra ticket. Instead of selling it to the inevitable last-minute movie goers, she chose to take Amol the film, "Arre aaj tub hi dekhega," remarked the doorman as they entered the theatre. Although the 12-year old cleans the theatre chairs after the last screening, he is not allowed to watch the films. The woman bought him an ice-cream cone since she felt every child who goes to see a film should have one. The shy Amol sat transfixed amidst the perfumed crowd in the balcony as the colorful images of Simba, the lion cub, and the vibrant African jungle washed over him. There were several who had stood outside the theatre trying to dispose of their extra tickets. Many of these were wasted for lack of buyers. All these people lacked the generosity to give from the heart.

Q.1 Read the passage and answer the following questions.

(5 Marks)

About a hundred years ago, whenever an operation was performed, the patient would cry out in agony because he felt the surgeon cut his flesh. But now serious operations are performed without pain, and thousands of lives are saved. James Simpson was the first to discover and use the pain-killing power of chloroform. James was born into a poor family. So in his childhood, he not only helped his father on holidays but also helped the village doctor.

But he was horrified by the dire suffering of the people who came to the hospital for treatment. He now made it his life's mission to find new inventions that would prevent so much pain. Simpson did many experiments and finally discovered chloroform. Now the patient is not afraid of the operation.

- Who discovered the pain-killing power of chloroform?
- What was James Simpson's childhood like?
- What motivated James Simpson to find new inventions to prevent the pain?
- What did James Simpson finally discover?
- How did the discovery of chloroform impact surgery?
